

The Sky Woman

Charles B. Stilson (1880 - 1932)

'Yee-mah! Yee-mah! Alla ferma na somma!'

The words will ring in my ears forever until I die! What do they mean? Who uttered them? What was she, and whence, and why? Will science in five thousand years more of groping and striving be able to answer? What cosmic secret might the interpretation of that wild, sweet cry lay bare? Or was it but a dying woman's wail of despair?

- Summary is an excerpt from book

Read by Jenn Broda. Total running time: 01:08:06

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover pictures from pixabay.com users FelixMittermeier and OpenClipart-Vectors. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU. and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by Jenn Broda. This design is in the public domain.

The Sky Woman by Charles B. Stilson

The Sky Woman by Charles B. Stilson